EDITOR'S CHAIR.

HOW THINGS LOOK FROM OUR STAND POINT.

The Opinion of the Editor and The Opinion of Others Which we Can Endorse on the Various Topizs of the Day,

Weaver's trip to Pulaski has thrown a boom shell into the camp of the campaign slanderers and liars.

The last record of the machine politician is to circulate a report that there are not enough electors out in the several States to give Weaver a majority if they were all elected. When they tell you this, laugh at them and tell them you know more about the People's party than they do. Tell them for their information that electors are out for Weaver and Field in every State except South Carolina, and that we will have electors there before the election.

Remember and Remind Them.

The Democratic speakers are advising the Republicans to vote the Republican ticket this year. What does this mean? Did they ever do this before? It means they have tried to get them to vote the Straightout Democratic ticket, and having failed in that they prefer for them to vote the Republican ticket to the People's party ticket. If this is so, then they would prefer to see the Republican party win than for the people to win. Remind them of this when they talk about negro domination and the "dark days of '68." Before the election, the machine politician will be trying to hire some negro or independent to run for some county office to beat the people. Remember that the Democratic machine did everything it could to get the Republicans to put out a State ticket. They succeeded. When the ticket was put out, remember that there were no happier people in the State than the Ex. Com. and the State nominees of the Democratic machine. A number were on-lookers at the Republican convention, and were seen to rejoice and clap their hands in delight. When they try to frighten you with the danger of the Republicans winning, remind them of this. This is low machine politics. Will you be fooled by them? Tell them they can't frighten you with a scare-crow of their own making.

Mr. Carr as a Reformer vs. Mr. Carr as a Politician.

We heard Mr. Elias Carr, the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor, speak at Asheville. We took notes. Among other things he said:

"I have always tried to keep the Alliance reformers in harmony with Democracy. It is true that at St. Louis in 1889 we put Government ownership of Railroads in the National demands of the Alliance, but when we learned that this was not in harmony with the party, we changed ownership to control at Ocala."

We were sorry for Mr. Carr when he felt called upon to make such a damaging admission. If Mr. Carr had ever at any time made such a statement before any Alliance meeting he could not have been elected door keeper, and no one knows this better than he. When President of the Alliance he taught us that it was our duty to stand by our principles and demands and force some party to adopt them. He taught that we must place principle above party. Now a party (only one) has adopted the demands of the Alliance, and Mr. Carr has turned his back upon the party and his principles and the Alliance demands, and is supporting a party that turned its back upon the Alliance and spit upon its demands. Yes, it was pitiable to see the Ex-President of the Alliance making such an admission to win applause from an audience made up of men who had no sympathy for reform and who had fought the Alliance and opposed its every demand. Can it be that the audience had a high regard for the man after such an admission, the man they had opposed as long as he stood by the demands of the Alliance and his own teachings? Mr. Carr you have clung to the name of a party, but have departed from the faith you taught us. The people have not gone back upon Mr. Carr, he has gone back on them.

Sam Jones on Blear-eyed Fools.

Let's talk politics for a few minutes now. There's an old politician there who says, 'I'd die for the principles of the great Democratic party.' Oh, you bleared-eyed fool, you wouldn't know principle if you met it coming down the road with a great big red flag sticking out. That Republican politician is the same. If you talk about principles there is no difference between the Democratic and the Republican parties. The only difference at all that you can get them to acknowledge is and some Republicans are for low tariff and some Democrats for high tariff. Now listen! There ain't one voter in every fifty thousand that ever seriously read and studied the constitution of the United States. There ain't fifty men in this audience that ever read carefully and intelligently the constitution of the State of New York. There isn't one in 10,000 in this State that looked over the code of the State of New York to see what the base of the code was and what the law was. And yet you go through this country whooping, 'Our party will carry us on and upward to a better government and a better life.' Republican politicians tell you this, and all good Republicans applaud. The next day the Democrat says the very same things and the Democrats will throw up their hats and holler. And yet both men made the same speech, and while the Republican spoke the Democrat looked on as if all his friends were dead, and the next day he yells for the same thing—the blear-eyed fool.—Harnett Reformer.

A DIFFERENCE ON THE TARIFF

GOOD EVIDENCE.

GENERAL WEAVER AT PULASKI.

"Mother Said He was a Gentleman and a Kind-Hearted, Brave Soldier.

The Nashville Toiler sent a reported to Pulaski, Tenn., not long since for the purpose of investigating Gen. Weaver's private acts while he was stationed at that place. The following clipping should dispel from the minds of our people any doubt as to Mr. Weaver's character, and it is certainly enough to prove to them that it would be absurd to attach any importance to the lying newspaper reports concerning Mr. Weaver:

"The first person interviewed was Mr. A. J. Ballentine, a prominent citizen of Pulaski and a director of the People's National Bank at that place. He was seen at his residence and our reporter, knowing that he was an ex-Confederate soldier, said:

"'Mr. Ballantine, I believe you are an ex-Confederate soldier and a good Democrat and as such oppose the People's party.' He replied: 'Yes, sir; I am, and would do anything in my power to defeat this Third party.'

"'Then, Mr. Ballentine, I guss you are the man I'm hunting. I want to know something about this rascal Weaver, who was stationed here during the war.'

"'Young man, if you want to hear anything in the way of abuse of Gen. Weaver never come to a Ballantine after it. As for me, I never saw Gen. Weaver, and was opposed to him during the war, and am against him now. With all that, I can never say a word against a man who protected my mother and sister as Gen. Weaver did while he boarded with them. He knew that my mother had four sons in the Confederate army, yet he treated her with the greatest respect. I was in the army at the time and know nothing about Weaver as an officer or as a gentleman. All I know that mother said he was a gentleman and a kind-hearted, brave soldier. So, you see, young man, when my mother (she has been dead two years now) tells me that this man was a nice man, it is hard for me to believe otherwise. I remember one morning gfter the close of the war that she asked me to see after some papers she hadr They proved to be vouchers fo. supplies given to Weaver. I took them very reluctantly and told her she would never realize anything on them. A few weeks later she asked me about them, and I confessed that I thought so little about them that I had lost them down at the store. Gen. Weaver, however, came to the rescue and tried to get the money for us. My brother was with the General in Congress and I have heard him speak of Weaver often.'

"Mr. Ballantine is a loyal Southerner and a courteous gentleman, and his statements are bound to carry weight with them.

"He then saw Mr. Jas. A. P. Skillern, a son-in-law of Rev. Robt. Caldwell, who was a friend of Gen. Weaver's. Mr. Skillern had heard since that General Weaver was a hard lot. Skillern was satisfied that General Weaver was a scoundrel, but had never seen anything to bear him out, although he was in Pulaski during the war. Mr. Skillern seemed to be a gentleman who had not allowed his blind love for Democracy to get the better of his judgment."

DEMOCRATIC CONSISTENCY.

The Democracy of the South claim in justification of their brutal treatment of Weaver that he is a South-hater; that he oppressed the people in some parts of Tennessee during the war. To prove the hypocrisy of this claim read the following record of the party upon that point. It is taken from the Southern Alliance Farmer:

Did not the Democracy vote for Seymour and Blair in 1868? And did not Frank Blair take command of McPherson's command when McPherson fell at Peach Tree? Did not Frank Blair command a corps under Sherman; help Sherman burn Atlanta; shell the town of Jonesboro when Hardee was evacuating it; accompany Sherman's march to the sea, and help Sherman burn South Carolina? And yet Weaver was only in the service three years, not in Sherman's campaign at all. And yet with the ashes of Atlanta and South Carolina's desolation sticking to Frank Blair's shoe soles they gag at Weaver and have not yet puked up Blair.

Does not every Georgian remember the famous order that everybody must abandon Atlanta in thirty days? Did not General Blair as a corps commander enforce that order by driving women and children from their homes and then burn their homes after they were gone?

GENERAL HANCOCK.

When Stanton quarrelled with Sherman because he tore up Sherman's compromise with Joe Johnson in North Carolina, and Grant would not let him arrest R. E. Lee. Why, of course, Stanton had but little use for them in his reconstruction schemes, but found a Yankee of his kith and kin in General Hancock, who invaded the South, was in every prominent battle on the Potomac and in Virginia during the war, and he became Stanton's reconstruction general. General Hancock sent bayonets to Georgia; arrested Joe Brown and many prominent Georgians; run Bob Toombs out of the State; fed Jeff Davis on bread and water at Fortress Monroe. Yet when New York told the Southern Democracy to vote for General Hancock in 1880, they, with the shrieks of Georgians lying in jail and the wails of men and women begging for liberty at his headquarters ringing in their ears—the innocent blood of the South upon his hands—they voted for him—rolled him as a sweet morsel under their tongues, and now hold him and Frank Blair in their stomach—not yet puked up. But, says the Democracy, they were under orders and had to obey. So was Weaver. But, say they, Weaver could have resigned. Not while he was a private soldier. But Blair and Hancock could have resigned too.

HORACE GREELEY,

who was the god-father of the Southern hatred, the discoverer of Mason and Dixon's line, and for twenty-five years poured forth through the columns of his New York Tribune all the abuse that tongue or pen could portray, calling the Southern people negro breeders, negro thieves, aligarchists, blooded bigots, negro chasers, accusing slave-holders of the crimes of adultery, fornication, concubinage, miscegnation, selling their own children, fist fighters, duelists, brogues, rowdies, scallawags, and rotten generally. And still, when New York said to vote for Horace Greeley, not a Democrat in the South but swallowed Horace; yes, gulped him down, but cannot go Weaver because he is claimed to have made two speeches against the South which he never made.—Ex.

He Blames the Editors.

Mr. R. H. W. Barker, speaking of the editors of the Democratic papers through the Hickory Mercury, says:

"I blame the editors of North Carolina for working too cheap. You lose your sleep; you wear out yourself; you are confined and denied the pleasures that other men have; you mould the sentiments of the people; you control the people in the interest of some party; you cover up bad legislation and keep the people in the dark; you explain away all charges against your boss or take them on yourself; you praise the boss, often against your own conscience; you say he is sober when he is drunk; you cover up all his shortcomings; you say he made a ringing speech, such as you had never heard, when you did not believe a word of it; you change and say he is a good man when you once said he was a bad man. Not only all this, but the worst of all is, you place your soul in great danger of being doomed to death eternal. When your lords die you laud them to the skies; say he gave largely to charitable objects, and the preacher preaches him to heaven when he ought to know he is in hell. The boss leaves a rich widow, that will not marry an editor; his children count their wealth by the million. You die and leave a dependent family to battle for an existence in the world; the preacher says you have done good service in your party, but it is doubtful as to where you went at last. It has always been a mystery how you could be thus influenced for so little consideration and run the risk of so great a loss as that soul of yours, that will have to live forever in despair.

Now in conclusion will say to you in all honesty, stop your abuse of the people who are sweating almost drops of blood under the burden which they have to bear.—Harrison or Cleveland or the moneycrats have no idea of the hardships that the American people have to undergo at this time. Let me say to the people, stand firm for your rights; let not the power of the dollar or the powers that be in the earth or the powers that be in hell deter you or drive you from the right.

The People's party and Democrats have consolidated in Wisconsin. The intolerant Democratic bosses down here should look after their misguided brethren up there.

In the South they have Cleveland Democrats, and Jeffersonian Democrats, and lately another kind has come into existence; they are known as the egg-act Democrats.—Ex.

The chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Georgia has issued a circular in relation to Georgia's disgrace. It won't do. Democracy may try its utmost to wipe out the "damned spot." but it grows more hideous with each effort.

Latest returns fromTex.headquarters of the People's party are to the effect that there are now organized in the State over 2,800 clubs in the interest of the ticket, and it is claimed that these organizations embrace a membership of not less than 160,000.

The chairman of a Virginia Democratic county committee makes the following report to headquarters: "There are 106 voters in my precinct, and now there are only four besides myself; the 101 have joined the People's party, and I can't do a thing with them. They are crazy."—Ex.

No minister should deem his duties as a citizen cancelled or modified by the fact that he is a public preacher of the gospel. He is still a citizen, and the rights and duties of the civil statue belong to him. If he prays for government, as he certainly should, then he is equally bound to preach as he prays, and then vote as he preaches and prays.—New York Independent.

DEMOCRATIC PENSION PLANK.

Sec. 13. This convention hereby renews the expression of appreciation of the patriotism of the soldiers and sailors of the Union in the war for its preservation, and we favor just and liberal pensions for all disabled Union soldiers. their widows and dependents.

A COMIN' AN' AGWINE.

"Gentlemen, may I go with you?"

"Where?"

"I don't care."

"But we are going in opposite directions. This gentleman is going North while I am going South."

"I don't care."

"But which of us do you wish to accompany?"

"Both."

"But you can't go in two directions at once."

"Can't I, though? I guess you don't know who I am. I am the Democratic platform." See?

Ah! We see.—Georgia Enterprise.

THE CAMPAIGN.

[Editorial Correspondence.]

EDGECOMBE COUNTY.

TARBORO, N. C.,
Oct. 13th, 1892.

After being absent from the canvass three days on account of the fire in Clinton, I filled my appointment here to-day. I did not arrive until 3 o'clock, and spoke only for an hour, taking the 4 P. M. train to Williamston. There was a large and representative audience present. Mr. Aycock had already spoken in the forenoon.

MARTIN COUNTY.

WILLIAMSTON, N. C.,
Oct. 14th, 1892.

The reform movement is strong in this county. We had a joint discussion before a packed Courthouse to-day. Mr. Aycock makes a strong, logical speech. He is decidedly the ablest debater we have yet met on the stump. But it is a pleasure to conduct a joint canvass with him because he discusses the issues and is always fair and courteous.

We have a strong county and Legislative ticket here which stands a good chance of election. The nominees are as follows:

For Representative—T. E. McCaskey.

For Treasurer—J. S. Peele.

For Register of Deeds—W. H. Wilson.

For Sheriff—J. L. Davenport.

For Coroner—J. D. Bowen.

For Co. Surveyor—J. H. Grimes.

BEAUFORT COUNTY.

WASHINGTON, N. C.,
Oct. 15th, 1892.

We spoke in the Opera house here to-day. The Courthouse would not have held one-fourth of the large audience. The majority was for the People's party. The People's party county and Legislative ticket is an excellent one. We have never met cleverer people than we find in this county and town. The audience was intelligent and attentive and courteous to both speakers. This is a delightful old town with a population of nearly 5,000. We had no idea it was near so large. There is none of the bitter feeling between town and country. You could scarcely tell that a campaign was on hand. The People's party ticket not only in this county but also in Martin and Edgecomb are almost sure to be elected.

Dr. R. B. Stilley, a strong and influential citizen, is the nominee of the People's party for the Legislature and will be elected.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

PLYMOUTH, N. C.,
Oct. 17th, 1892.

Neither the Courthouse nor town Hall would hold half of the crowd gathered here to hear the discussion, so we were forced to speak out doors. At least two-thirds if not three fourths of the crowd belonged to the People's party. I am sure that the People's party has not lost a single vote at any joint discussion we have had in the State, and if we have lost one we can show two gained for every one lost. I am sure we made many votes here to-day. Mr. Aycock is making a brilliant canvass for his side, but the facts are against him. The People's party has out an excellent ticket as follows:

For Representative—J. J. Woodley.

For Treasurer—H. J. Williams.

For Register of Deeds—Wm. Bateman.

For Sheriff—Rufus Swain.

For Coroner—B. F. Bailey.

For Co. Surveyor—R. F. Phelps.

This ticket will sweep the county by a good majority. We find the reform movement strong and hopeful at nearly every place.

A PERSONAL STATEMEMT.

The editor of this paper started in the world a few years ago without a dollar. We were worth less than nothing, for a part of our education was then to be paid for. We bought THE CAUCASIAN office and have been struggling to pay for it and get it well equipped for publishing a first class weekly paper. We had put everything we had made into the office. A few days since the office was completely destroyed by fire, not a single cent's worth of property was saved, we had no insurance. The loss is a heavy blow to us, but we are determined the paper shall not stop. We will start up another office as soon as we can, and in the meantime will have the paper printed at some other office. My friends I need your help now if I ever will. If you are due anything not only send that to us, but pay us for a year's subscription in advance if possible. All of you are financially in a better condition now than I am, and a little from each of you will be a considerable help to me. I am not now able to send a single copy on time, so of course the cash should be sent with every new subscriber. Do not delay the matter because the amount is small, but please send to us at once as every little helps. THE CAUCASION must not stop, but must be built up better than ever and its circulation increased. I believe you will everyone come to my assistance.

Yours sincerely,
MARION BUTLER.

DR. KINGSBURY SUGGESTS

THAT THE DEMOCRATS JOIN WITH THE "BLACK AND TAN PARTY" TO DEFEAT REFORM.

[From Wilmington Messenger, June 8th.]

It may come to pass yet that the Democrats and Republicans may have to get together to save the country from the rule and ruin party of impracticable ideas. It may yet become a necessity that the two old parties shall lock shields in opposition to financial cranks and revolutionists who seem bent on destroying the Republic. When the Government is threatened to be transformed into a regular huge pawn-broker's shop and into a Strong Government despotism it is high time for the patriots of the country to combine for its salvation."

THE CAUCASIAN.

Seed rye $1.00 per bushel. Good flour $4 50 a barrel. Respectfully,

B. F. POWELL.

I desire to impress upon the minds of those who owe me by mortgages, notes, or open accounts, that I lost very heavily by the fire, and am unable to indulge them as usual. I, therefore, hope that one and all will appreciate the situation and call and settle at once.

Respectfully,

T. M. FERRELL.

I hope my customers and friends will look me up at my old stand on the corner of Railroad and Elm Streets, where I will offer them the goods saved from the fire, at prices that will pay them for their trouble. Respectfully,

T. M. FERRELL.

My large undertaking department was a total loss, but a new and complete stock of coffins, caskets, trimmings, robes, &c., is now on the way, and by the time this is in print, I will be able to fill all orders promptly.

Respectfully,

T. M. FERRELL.

T. M. Ferrell is now replenishing his stock. He has received since the fire. Coffins and coffin trimings, kerosene oil, potash, lard, shot, soap and flour. Shoes and other goods will be in next week.

Dried apples at T. M Ferrell's.

If you want the best flour you ever had, call on T. M. Ferrell for it.: his "Ladies Favorite" can't be beat.

"BURNT DOWN."

Although Clinton has suffered a great calamity. I am still at my old stand with a full line of Dry Goods, Shoes & hats, and at the very lowest burnt down cash prices. Received this week 35 new cases shoes to fill in my stock also 2000 yards prretty new prints

W. S. PARTRICK.

RACKET STORE.

Here we are again, right to the front with our low prices. We never lag behind but always let you know when we are ready. Our stock is now complete. We invite one and all to come and see, for it will richly pay you to do so. Ladies trimmed hats selling daily from 50c. up to $6.00. Woollen dress goods from 10c. up to $1.00 per yard. Dark Outtings from 10c. to 12 1-2c. All kinds of dress goods on hand. Homespuns, Calicoes, Ginghams, Satteens, at living prices. Ladies gloves, cloaks, at the lowest prices. Don't fail to come to us for your ladies', men's, boys and children's shoes. They are the best and cheapest in Clinton. We have such a large stock it is impossible to tell you all that we have, but we respectfully invite you to come and see us before buying.

MARY E. PETERSON & Co.

A FULL STOCK OF GOODS AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies' gloves, hoes, handkerchiefs, dress goods, breast pins, ear-bobs, &c. Gents gloves, sox suspenders, doment shirts, white linen shirts, drawers, special bargains in cloth for pants or suits. Very respectfully,

B. F. POWELL.

CAUCASIAN RELIEF FUND.

The following named persons have contributed the amounts opposite their names, as pioneer donations, to assist THE CAUCASIAN in getting on its feet again, so that it may continue to fight for the cause of reform:

D. M. Kornegay,	$ 1.00
J. B. King,	0.25
Hillery Myers,	0.10
Lewis Sutton,	0.50
Eyeritte Peterson,	1.00

Other names and amounts will be published as they are sent in.

TO PREVENT THE GRIP

or any other similar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning, do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediate attention to yourself. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

NOTICE.

We wish to secure back numbers of THE CAUCASIAN. The file was destroyed when the office was burned, and we are anxious to get one copy of each issue for several months back. Will some of our friends collect back numbers and bring them to us? We will pay you for the trouble. By doing this you will confer a favor on the editor.

A CARD.

I desire to thank my friends, both white and colored, for the assistance rendered in saving a portion of my stock of general merchandise during the fire in Clinton Oct. 6th, 1892. I have now opened business at the junction of Elm and R. R. Streets, where I will be pleased to serve my customers as before. Respectfully,

T. M. FERRELL.

"Handsome is that handsome does," and if Hood's Sarsaparilla doesn't do handsomely then nothing does. Have you ever tried it?

PLEASE COME.

Please come in and pay what you owe THE CAUCASIAN. We need it. What each individual subscriber owes is small in itself, but the aggregate is very large to us. THE CAUCASIAN will be lively this campaign. You should keep up with it.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—Only a few more days in which to register.

—Come to the speaking next Saturday.

—Rev. Mr. Gibben will hold services at St. Paul's church next Sunday at 11 A. M. Also at night.

—Thanks to Mrs. J. C. Wright for a handsome invitation card to attend the "Columbus Day" exercises of her school at Coharie, N. C.

—Mr. Spears, Harrison elector, and Mr. Cox, of Harnett, spoke in the Courthouse Wednesday the 12th inst., also at the R. R. hotel at night.

—The Racket Store is well filled with just such goods as will sell fast. Mrs. Peterson & Co. is doing a good business. Call on them when in town.

—Mr. Matt J. Pearsall, formerly on THE CAUCASIAN staff, left Clinton Monday evening for Cordele, Ga. Mr. Pearsall is a splendid young man, and we commend him to the people of Cordele as being worthy of all confidence and respect.

—We suppose but few are aware of Mr. T. M. Ferrell's heavy loss in his undertaking department. Very few places no larger than Clinton carries such a full line of coffins and caskets, from the lowest grade to the best. He has for years been able to furnish any thing that could be had at a first-class undertaker's except metalic coffins.

—Mr. M. Hanstein is in the Northern markets buying another stock of goods. He suffered a heavy loss by the fire, but he is a live and energetic merchant, and will soon have his store filled to its uttermost capacity with another well selected stock. He will serve his customers at the store formerly occupied by Capt. D. A. Culbreth.

—The Registration books will be open up to October 29th, 1892. See that your name is on the book. The new registration law requires that you give your age, occupation, place of birth, place of residence as well as the township where the voter last resided See that all these questions are answered upon the registration book opposite your name. It is important to you. Don't loose your vote.

—Some of our neighbors have been telling that they had been instrumental in bringing certain parties back to the Democratic fold, but letters have been received at this office bearing the signature of the same parties, in which they say that every such statement is absolutely false. We have been requested to publish the letters, but we think it hardly necessary to shoot every time we hear a rustling among the leaves —The Washington Literary Society, which was organized at the College several weeks ago, is progressing finely. The boys are interested in the work. Prof. Skinner has given one of the largest and best rooms in the College for the exclusive use of the Society. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to wait on our town friends to see if they would contribute something to help furnish the Hall. If you are asked to give a picture or a chair, don't turn a deaf ear.

—Some of our subscribers in North Sampson will get Nos. 1 and 2 of THE CAUCASIAN at the same time. Last Tuesday morning we took the county mail to the post office, just as the mail driver was preparing to leave. Mr. Norris was standing talking with a friend, and his friend remarked that we were coming with the papers, whereupon he said, "I must get away from this place," and jumped on his cart and drove away. We begged him almost piteously to take the papers, but he refused to take them. Mr. Norris proved to have no more accommodation about him than a hog, and we are sorry that we have to contend with such a man.

McElree's Wine of Cardui and THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT are for sale by the following merchants

DR. R. H. HOLLIDAY,
Clinton, N. C.

—Our citizens can no longer complain of having no schools. The school taught by Messrs. Slocumb and Faust and Miss Mary Lou Brown has an attendance of nearly one hundred pupils.

The Clinton Military Institute is also well attended. No doubt Prof. Skinner is as well equipped with school room supplies as any teacher in the State. Globes, charts and maps of all kinds are in use. Among the most interesting are his mathematical, musical, geographical, anatomical and spelling charts. New instruments and batteries have been received for the telegraph department. Every need has been supplied that is necessary to run a first-class school.

—Why is it that the Sampson Democrat raises such a great hue and cry about Dr. Thompson's speech being indecent? Is it because the editor of the Democrat has such a keen sense of right that Dr. Thompson's jokes was irritative to his serene dignity? Or was it because Dr. Thompson is a P. P. man and did their speaker up in such fine style that they are sore over the matter? Perhaps they will say his jokes were too rough, and that they would condemn such in any speaker. But why is it that we never hear Senator Vance condemned for his jokes? Senator Vance is more vulgar on the stump than Dr. Thompson, and we venture to say that if Z. B. Vance had made use of the same jokes, the editor, or contributor, of the Democrat would have relished them, and been ready to repeat them himself. We don't appreciate vulgarity any more than the editor of the Democrat, but we can't see why he should "strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel,"

—In hearing a conversation on the cars Tuesday morning between a lady and a gentleman (the gentleman known to us, the lady a stranger) we were made glad and sorry at the same time. Sorry to see a man of intelligence and high standing making an ass of himself, but glad to see a lady of refinement and good sense, as her appearance and conversation proved her to be, kindly rebuking him for his wild non-sensical declarations. The lady believed in the principles of Democracy, and talked sensibly and decently. He was a D-e m-o-c-r-a-t, and his conversation showed conclusively that prejudice had over-powered his reason, and left him almost a raving maniac, so far as politics are concerned. During his conversation he spoke of his relatives who had disgraced his fair name by joining in with the "third party." He also spoke of the country round about Faison's as once being a place of intelligence and refinement, but he seemed to think that it had now sank to pitiably low depths, beyond all hopes of recovery. His conversation was well filled with unbecoming remarks, entirely too many to quote here, and our sympathies, for him were aroused while he was thus speaking, but more so when we walked out, and he was heard to say, "He is a Butler man, and I was just peeling him." His peeling wasn't worth noticing, but if it had been, his was a cowardly way to accomplish it. Oh, if we could see ourselves as others see us!

WINE OF CARDUI, a Tonic for Women.

A SAD AND TRAGIC DEATH.

[For the Caucasian.]

Mr. John F. Mathews formerly of this county was shot and brutally murdered in the town of Burlington on the night of the 8th inst. At about one o'clock he was aroused from his sleep by some one trying to make an entrance into the rear door of store. Arousing himself, with his gun he cautiously opened the front door, and went near where they were and fired his gun to frighten them away, when the robbers turned their weapons on him killing him instantly. One of the bullets entered his head over the left eye and one in the left shoulder and arm. Mr. Mathews was a son of Mr. O. M. and Mrs. E. C. Mathews, and was mostly raised near Piney Grove church, where he was loved and esteemed by the whole community. He was about twenty eight years old. A few years ago the family moved to Goldsboro; after staying there a short time John went to Burlington and engaged in merchandizing on a small capital. By his honest and indomitable will and energy he greatly enlarged his business and was doing well and on a sound basis. He was greatly esteemed and loved in the town, as was shown at his funeral —the whole town turning out to the last sad tribute to him. The deepest heartfelt sympathies goes out for his mother and brothers and sisters in their great bereavement.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY

OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams in the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the early morning cough, and stimulates the child to throw off the false membrane in croup and whooping-cough. When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping-cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. Ask your druggist for it. Price 25c. and $1.00.

Barbarous Democracy.

Governor Northen, of Georgia, in a recent speech, gave utterance to the following inhuman, barbarous utterances, which cannot be read without a shudder of horror. Listen to what he says:

"Strike your wife," who in her youth gave you her warmest affection. "Strike your wife," who has been your nurse through evory hour of sickness and your comfort and joy through every hour of health. "Strike your wife," who has shared with you every moment of poverty and distress, and who, if you have reached comfort and independence, helped you to reach it and helped you to enjoy it.

Strike this faithful, tender, pure and loyal woman—strike her cruelly and brutally, strike her as a brute beast would be ashamed to strike—but don't you ftrike the dear, old Democratic party.

But that is not the worst of it.

What else did he say in that speech? "Strike your child, which to-night will kneel at its mother's knee, robed in white, lisping the prayer of infancy, 'Now I lay me down to sleep.'"

"Yes, strike your child"—innocent, pure and loving. Not only that' strike her as she's clothed in white, typical of the unblemished sinlessness of her being.

Concerning which the Gallilean said, "of such are the Kingdom of Heaven." Not only that, strike her as she kneels at her mothers knee as the evening quiet shadows gather about the old homestead and and the quiet stars begin to look through the tree tops where the katydids are singing. Not only that, strike her as she opens her sweet lips in that first pray of childhood—"Now I lay me down to sleep."

Strike her as her tender mind communes with the good God under her mother's saintly teachings. Kneeling at that mother's knee robed in white, the most innocent, touching and endearing scene in all the domestic life of the sons of men.

Yes, strike her; strike the praying lips into silence heartlessly with the malice and calousness of a very devil. Yes, do all this, "but don't strike the dear old democratic party."

These are the sentiments of the present goveror of Georgia. This is the inhuman, blasphemous advice of the chief executive of that State to the people over which he is called to administer the laws. Is there any crime in the calendar that he does not advise being committed in defense of the continuation of the reign of Democracy? If there is, it is too brutal to mention. Yet this man passes for a christian instead of a heathen. He is said to go in prayer to the same God with civilized humanity, instead of worshipping stocks and stones as his own brutal instincts would determine. The evidence is both complete and conclusive, that the Democracy of Georgia planned the outrage on Gen. Weaver and are now gloating over the result. Let every one remember that thisinfamywas consummated in the State that made itself glorious by giving to the country the gigantic intellect of Alexander H. Stevens, the brave, brainy, intrepid Ben. Hill, and the loving, sympathetic and adored Henry Grady. Had this stain upon the fair name of Georgia occurred during their time, how different would have been its consideration. Mr. Stephens would have hurled his withering philippics at the offendors with such force as to arouse the best element in the State to a swift and sure defense of its name and honor. Were fearless Ben. Hill alive the streets in every town in which Gen. Weaver was billed to speak would have been reddened with blood or he would have been accorded a respectful hearing. And Henry Grady, genlal, kindly and grand, he who gave up his own life to wipe out this sectional hatred; he who believed in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, whose name is a synonym for all that is good, noble and generous, what would he do if he were alive to-day? His great heart would break, and he would go down in despair at the failure of all his sacrifices, hard labor and past efforts. Let the people of Georgia wipe from their past history the lustre given it by Mr. Stephens. Let them erase from the annals of their greatness the name of the gifted and chivalrous Ben. Hill. Let Speaker Crisp resign his high position, let them pull down the loving tributes erected to the memory of Grady, and let them hang out the black flag of barbarism and to proclaim to the world that in Georgia civilization has begun to retrogade and humanity is rapidly being eliminated. —National Watchman.

A Free Country.

Is this a free country? Then why has not every intelligent free man a right to his own opinion? Upon what grounds do the different political parties abuse each other, calling their neighbors and sometimes their kinsmen by the most degraded names, wishing that all such were dead and in hell, because they chose to vote according to their own judgment? Has not my neighbor as good common sense as I? Does he not know that a vote which in its result would injure me, would also injure him? Is he not a reasonable man in his business relations with his neighbors; and do not the members of his church believe him to be a gentleman and a christian? Then who has constituted you a "dictator," and put other people as good, and often times much better than yourself morally, under your dictatorial commands?

Again, what propriety or common sense is there in calling up the early records of candidates, making them accountable for acts for which they may have repented long ago and God has forgiven them; holding up the little mistakes of youth, or the erratic conduct of young life, so that the character of good, christian men now in the church and service of God are punctured, pealed and riddled and torn to shreds like the blades of a corn field after a heavy hail storm? Take care brother; your character, if judged in the same manner, would look like the Irishman's bird after he had shotall the "fithers" away. All this, too, because your neighbor wants to exercise his God-given right of a free man, and cannot see as you do! Is it not possible that your eyes may be so blinded by party prejudice that you do not see aright! If you honestly think your neighbor is wrong; tell him so in a Christirn spirit; but you have no right to abuse him, calling him a "fool," a "devil," and wishing him "in hell" because he can't see as you do.—B. L. Abernathy in the Christian Advocate.

Bimetalism.

Notwithstanding the fact that 24 States in the Union declared for free and unlimited cainage of silver in their platforms in 1890, there are some to.day who say that free and unrestricted coinage of silver will not be of any benefit.

This is singular when the sentiment in favor of it was so strong two years ago. And it is wonderfully strange how these States, representing three-fourths of the Union, could have gone so far wrong. Each State in its platform generally, presents the needs of the people, and seeks to give the remedy. A change of present financial system was desired and along with the demand for free and unlimited coinage of silver was a demand by some of the States for the abolition of National banks—and allowing the Government only to issue the money.

This was in harmony with the true principles of Democracy. It meant that the affairs of the Nation should be managed by the Government itself—that no corporations, combinations or individuals should conduct it affairs.

All of the eminent statesmen and apostles of Democracy, such as Jefferson, Jackson and others, contended that the issuing of the money of this country shourd be kept out of the hands of individuals, corporations or combinations. They maintained that great danger lurked in the issuance of a nation's currency by a corporation.

The party to-day would not be recognized by Jefferson, Jackson and others. It has been swept from its moorings. It has departed from the fundamental principles and teachings as formulated by those immortal patriots. Obedience to the money powers and cringing at their feet are characteristic to-day. The rule of the people is crushed out.

The fact that the free coinage issue was so soon dropped out of discussion is an evidence of this.

What the masses want is a maintenance of the parity between gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. They do not want a silver dollar as big as a cart wheel. They want silver restored to a parity with gold—a position it held for years until it wes fraudulently demoneytized. When free coinage is denied silver it is natural that it would depreciate. If gold were demonetized to-day it would immediately sink in value.

The American Cyclopedia says: "Demoneytize the precious metals and a laborer would no longer give a week's work for a bit of gold and silver, which he could do nothing with except to give his wife as an ornament. Men would no longer consent to be paid in bits of metal which no grocer, or butcher, or tailor would accept in exchange for goods.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The Enquirer would have it distinctly understood that it is decidedly and uncompromisingly in favor of the full restoration of silver at its old ratio with gold, whatever may be the result of the International Monetary Conference, and that it is opposed to all banks of issue, whether chartered by the States or the Federal Government. Paper money is a necessity, and only the Federal Government should supply it. Gold, silver and Treasury notes should constitute our circulating medium, all furnished by the Government, all interchangeable, and a full legal tender in payment of all forms of taxes, duties and debts." —Farmer's Advocate.

Where Powderly Stands.

The old political parties have both undertaken to place Mr. Powderly in an equivocal position so as to mislead the labor organizations. Much valuable space has been devoted to this, only to be dashed to the ground by the following concluding paragraph in his last weekly letter to the Journal of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Powderly says:

Now, let us suppose a case and ask for advice. If instead of electing the President of the United States through the electoral college we decide the contest by popular vote, and the man who had the greatest number of votes would be elected, and if Harrison had one million votes, Cleveland one miliion votes, and Weaver one million votes, none of them would be elected. Suppose that I had not yet voted and that no one else could vote after me, my vote would decide the issue, would it not! Now, the advice that I ask for is, which of the three should I vote for? I will venture the assertion that a million working men in this United States would make ready to march Scranton to hang me for being a traitor if I did not vote for Weaver. They would be right. I would be a traitor, and I really believe that I should be hanged for not voting for him. I quite agree with the million who would hang me for treason, and they should not refuse to agree with me when I say that each workingman who will not vote for him should be regarded in the same light. Coming as close as one vote is what would cause the one million to make ready to hang me, and it is only fair to presume that among the million there would be some hundreds of thousands, more or less, who did not vote for him themselves. The thought that each vote is required to foot up the grand total does not seem to weigh before election. "Fear of the other fellow" should not influence us, for, no matter which of the two old parties win, we will lose. Without waiting to know how the other millions intend to vote, I have resolved to give mine to Gen. James B. Weaver, and in doing so I will be acting consistently with the instructions given me by the Geneaal Assembly, which directed me to assist in framing a "political platform to which we may give our support at the polls."

Government Ownership of Railroads.

There are 600 railroad corporations in the United States, each of which requires a president, vice-president, and board of managers. The salary of the presidents average $11,000; vice-presidents, $4,000, with an average of $7,000 to pay the managers. Look at ihese figures:

600 presidents, at $11,000 each,	$6,600,000
600 vice-presidents, $4,000 each,	2,400,000
Managers for 600 roads, $7,000 each,	4,200,000
2,000 general passenger agents, $4,00 each,	8,000,000
1,500 attorneys, at $3000 each,	4,500,000
3,000 ticket and freight agents, $1,500 each,	4,500,000
Total salaries of above,	$30,200,000

Now, if the Government owned the railroads, they would all be brought under one system, and the above mentioned gentry would be almost entirely dispensed with, and there would still be enough operatives—not mentioned in the above list, but who at present run the roads under the direction of the above army of officials—to conduct the business without the friction necessary to rival lines, and leave all of the above millions, paid out as salaries to useless officials, in the pockets of the people, by charging less freight and passenger fare.—National Watchman.

SIR HENRY THOMPSON, the noted London physician, says that more than one-half of the diseases of modern life are caused by easily avoidable errors in diet.

It is well known that the drunkard brings his ruin upon himself; but it is startling to be told in effect by so able a physician that, but for our ignorance, it is as much a sin to be ill as to be drunk.

The proprietors of Garfield Tea have been doing missionary work in this field. They include with each of the millions of free samples they yearly distribute, valuable medical essays on the use of hot water as a remedy, and of diet in disease; and with each package of Tea a booklet worth its weight in gold, written by a well-known hygienic physician, residing in New York and London, and a graduate of the New York University Medical College, pointing out a few simple rules whereby all persons of ordinary intelligence are able to conduct an attack of illness without calling a doctor; showing how to get well and keep well, and how so to live that no one need long use Garfield Tea or any other medicine. Until then, Garfield Tea helps overcome the evils of bad diet and over-eating.

This booklet also gives the Dr. Salisbury treatment of chopped meat and hot water; also the secret of the success of the milk cure and the grape cure in Europe.

And also, why the great success attending treatment at Carlsbad and other famous health springs; and shows how anyone may substantially get all the good results that come from such health resorts at home, by following the rules plainly set out in the little book.

Why are physicians so much opposed to proprietary medicines? Is it because such meritorious articles as Pond's Extract or Garfield Tea become household necessities and enable people to do their own doctoring and so keep money out of the pockets of physicians.

accomplishes for everybody exactly what is claimed for it. One of the reasons for the great popularity of the Mustang Liniment is found in its universal applicability. Everybody needs such a medicine.

The Lumberman needs it in case of accident.
The Housewife needs it for general family use.
The Canaler needs it for his teams and his men.
The Mechanic needs it always on his work bench.
The Miner needs it in case of emergency.
The Pioneer needs it—can't get along without it.
The Farmer needs it in his house, his stable, and his stock yard.
The Steamboat man or the Boatman needs it in liberal supply afloat and ashore.
The Horse-fancier needs it—it is his best friend and safest reliance.
The Stock-grower needs it—it will save him thousands of dollars and a world of trouble.
The Railroad man needs it and will need it so long as his life is a round of accidents and dangers.
The Backwoodsman needs it. There is nothing like it as an antidote for the dangers to life, limb and comfort which surround the pioneer.
The Merchant needs it about his store among his employees. Accidents will happen, and when these come the Mustang Liniment is wanted at once.
Keep a Bottle in the House. 'Tis the best of economy.
Keep a Bottle in the Factory. Its immediate use in case of accident saves pain and loss of wages.
